THE TRAIL RIDE OF 1930

SEVEN is traditionally a lucky number, so that the seventh annual trail ride had all the auguries in its favour. Although the attendance suffered from the prevailing financial depression, close on fifty riders took advantage of this truly wonderful opportunity to test out new trails, while two hundred and sixty assembled for the Pow-Wow at Marble Canyon. Just as it is wise to ensure sunshine by starting out on a walk with an umbrella, so we took with us a doctor, and on that account had no accidents, although the trail in certain spots was distinctly nerve-racking.

The first camp came all too soon, but the site was so beautiful that we were glad to have leisure for climbs and exploration. Here the new President's tent was aired for the first time since its purchase, and provided an excellent subject for cameras, movie and otherwise. The decorations are said to have attracted the flock of mountain goat which was discovered gazing on the intruders.

The new trail over Ball Pass proved much less formidable than the reports of last year had led us to expect. It was a long step down to the Banff-Windermere Road, but when we got there we had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of the Lake Windermere contingent fluttering under the wings of Dr. Harriett Cooke and Miss Mary Cutler. Then came the steep ride through the hornet-haunted trail to Floe Lake, certainly one of the loveliest spots in the Canadian Rockies. The icy temperature did not prevent some of the younger and hardier trail riders from indulging in a swim.

The third day's ride was undoubtedly the most thrilling of all. First of all there was the magnificent panorama looking down on Floe Lake, then the long descent to the headwaters of Hell Roaring Creek, then the climb up the narrowest of trails over slippery ledges to the plateau, which we finally reached just before the flakes began to fall. A few tents fortunately provided shelter till the pack-train arrived, while the Lake Windermere girls pushed on to a more sheltered camping ground on Tumbling Creek. Although the higher camp may have been colder, the scenery made up for any slight discomfort.

Last of all, the ride down to Marble Canyon and one of our pleasantest Pow-Wows, with a welcome attendance of two hundred visitors from Banff, Lake Louise and Radium Hot Springs. Although unfortunately our President, Walter

D. Wilcox, was unable to be present, his most interesting letter was read to a highly appreciative audience. The competition for the best dressed lady on the trail produced keen competition—and the judges thought it advisable to retire into the woods while their decision was being announced. However, no blood was shed and, indeed, the decision appeared to be most popular. Certainly the winner looked worthy of a prize.

Mrs. J. Wesley Hall, the winner of the "Country Life" Photographic Competition, was not able to personally receive her silver trophy, but this was gracefully accepted on her behalf.

The various new officers and counsellors elected appear on list on page 12.

The letter from Walter D. Wilcox, our retiring President, here follows:—

Washington, D.C.,

July 17th, 1930

Fellow Trail Riders,

It is with the sincerest and deepest regret that I am unable to be with you this year, not only as your fellow Trail Rider, but as your President. Circumstances over which I have no control have compelled me to remain throughout the summer in the heat and humidity of Washington, while all the time my heart is with you in the sparkling cold air of the mountains.

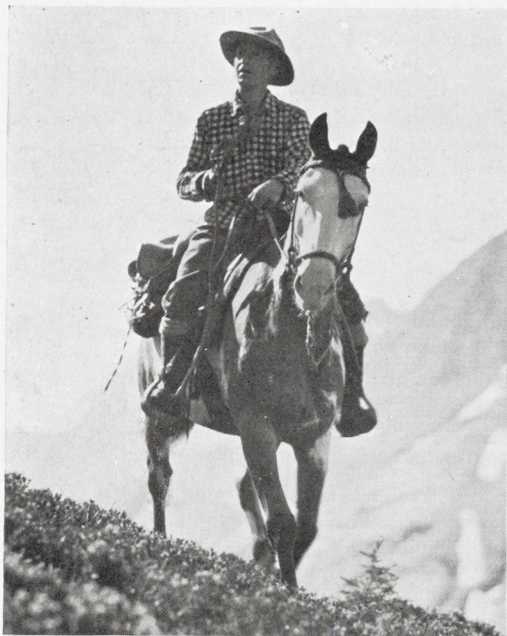

During the nearly forty years since 1891, when I first came to the mountains, there have only been, possibly, a half dozen seasons in which I have not spent part or all of the summer among them. It seems doubly unfortunate for me, that one of these dark spots in my life should occur at a time when I am your President and when I should have been glad to show to all of you a natural pride in the high honor you had bestowed upon me. Moreover the trip as planned appears to have many unusual attractions, so that if you have been fortunate in the weather, it might rival the marvellous ride of last year over the Simpson and Gibbon Passes. If, on the other hand, the weather has been cold and stormy, you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have hardened yourselves up to endure future rides that may be even worse!

If I mistake not, the site of the Pow-Wow will be near Marble Canyon at the entrance to Prospectors Valley. It is almost exactly thirty-one that I have never done anything but walk for years all over the mountains behind a pack-train—or sometimes in front of it!

In that early trip I note that we started from Lake Louise on the 13th of August, 1899. No one with any sense would ever start anywhere in the mountains on such a date. I felt vaguely that we were in for trouble—and we were. In the afternoon of the first day it began to rain, thunder and blow. About four in the morning the ridge pole of our tent gave way with a crash and fell down with eighteen inches of snow on us. It rained mostly all the time for the next ten days when it wasn't snowing or blowing a gale.

years since I first entered that valley with a single guide. Looking over my note book of the time I find the following item:—"To facilitate our progress through an unmapped and trailless region, where good nature and patience would, no doubt, be put to the final test in overcoming countless unforeseen obstacles, I reduced my outfit to the minimum size. It consisted of one man, Ross Peacock, upon whose good nature I justly placed great reliance, and four horses, two of which we rode." I mention this to show that I did sometimes ride a horse even in those early days though many of my western friends still claim

We lost our horses and our grub pile gave out, but we had a glorious time.

Later on when the weather cleared we entered Prospectors Valley and camped several miles above the canyon. On the same day I walked many hours up the valley and ascended a slope from which I could see, in the distance, the Opabin Pass and a lovely sheet of water which since has been named Haufmann Lake. An old camp in this valley with piles of lead and copper ore, suggested the name of Prospectors Valley.

Fellow Trail Riders, please accept my heartiest greetings and best wishes. Would that I

COUNTRY LIFE CUP FOR AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHERS

Those who took part in the Trail Ride of 1930 are reminded that the latest date for submitting photographs for the magnificent silver trophy offered by Reginald Townsend, Editor of "Country Life in America," is December 15th. The conditions are the same as last year, namely, that photographs must be taken by an amateur who is a member of the Trail Riders or who has made application for membership and who has made the photograph or photographs submitted on the Official Trail Ride. Glossy prints are preferable, to be reproduced in size seven and three-quarters wide by eleven and three-quarters high. All entries should be addressed to the Editor of "Country Life," Garden City, New York. The magazine reserves the right to publish any entry as well as the prize-winner at the usual rates.

IN MEMORIAM—DR. CORA JOHNSTONE

With deep regret and with sincere sympathy for her husband we record the death of our fellow Trail Rider, Dr. Cora J. Best, of Minneapolis, who, according to the "Minneapolis Tribune," died at her home on November 19th, following an illness that began several years ago when she was travelling in Switzerland. Dr. Best took part in all Official Trail Rides with the exception of that of 1930, when she was Alpine climbing in Europe.

Dr. Best, who was known throughout the United States as a conservationist and leading exponent of outdoor life, was a member of the Canadian Alpine Club, the Japanese Alpine Club and the Swiss Alpine Club. During the last twelve years she divided her time between exploring expeditions, which took her from the Arctic circle to the tropics, and writing and lecturing on her experiences. She was one of the first women in Minnesota to promote physical education as a necessary part of public school training. During the last ten years she lectured extensively in all parts of the country under auspices of the Bureau of Commercial Economics of Washington.

Dr. Best began writing about the outdoors and animal life at an early age. While she was still very young, her first story, "The Autobiography of a Cat," was published. She wrote at length for magazines devoted to the interests of conservation and animal life, and also wrote a number of poems.

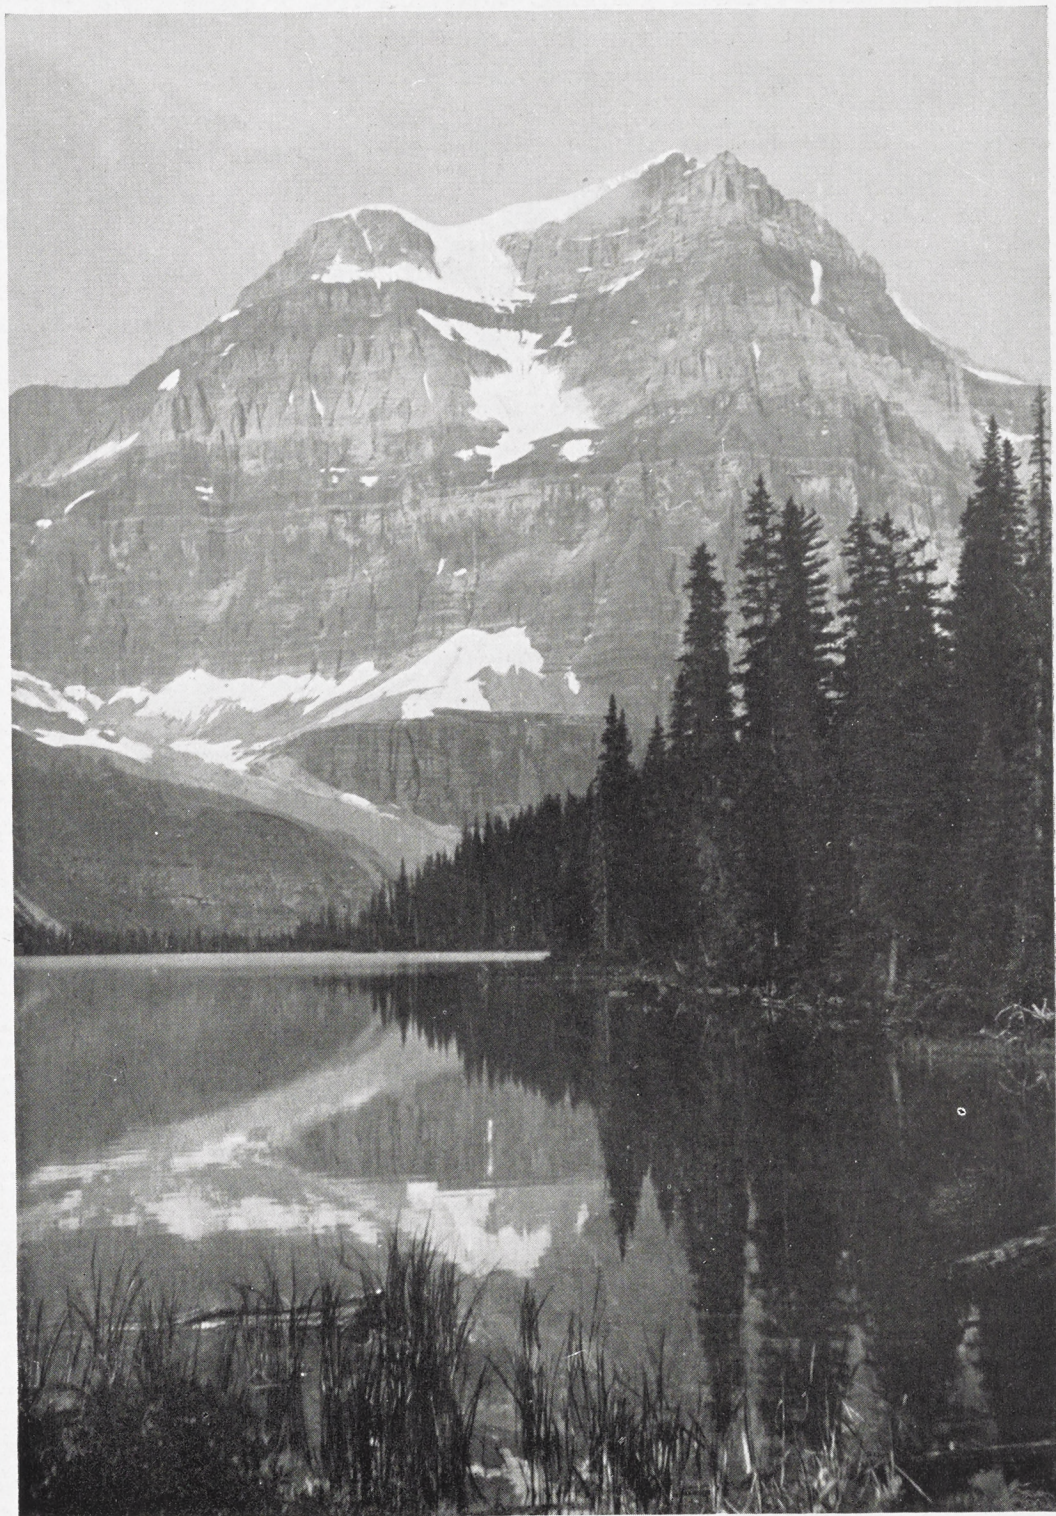

could have been with you on the trail, to accompany you through the forests and Alpine meadows, to breathe the life-giving air and feel the sunshine of the high passes, to watch the rising sparks of the camp fire and join in the songs at nightfall:—in a word, to engage in all the wholesome and life-giving experiences that the Trail Rider alone can know.

Though my heart is heavy at the thought of being so far from scenes and companions that are dear to me, I feel that a brighter day will surely come, and I promise, in so far as it is humanly possible to do so, to be with you on the Trail Ride of 1931.

Farewell!

Walter D. Wilcox.
